NO. 1 SONG

Tyler Farr's much more mellow single, "Whiskey in My Water," has distilled it's way through the MusicRow CountryBreakout Chart to land as this week's No. 1. Farr's previous single, "Redneck Crazy," mounted the chart in 2013.

Written by Jon Ozier, Phillip LaRue and Farr, the Columbia Nashville single is the fourth single from Farr's 2013 debut. MusicRow's Robert K. Oermann reviewed the single in October 2013, noting: "The follow-up single is a groove-soaked love song. As before, his singing voice is a raspy, soulful listening pleasure."

Farr is scheduled for appearances all the way until he joins Jason Aldean's Burn it Down tour next month (June 2014). Of those will be next week's (June 4) performance at the Nationwide Insurance stage at the CMT Music Awards.

In 1982, I began my radio career in Panama City, Florida under Skip Bishop. It was there, watching Skip, I learned the responsibility we have as programmers to play great songs. Sometimes those songs come from the majors, sometimes from a new artist with no label. To be fair to the music as a programmer, we need to listen without prejudice.

Promoters are key to reminding us to listen to new songs and more importantly to go back and listen again. With the number of songs we receive from artists, labels, promoters, downloads and CDs, it's easy to miss one. Plus promoters can share the story of the artist or give me the nudge to "give it a try." In my busy week, an occasional "Have you heard?" can go a long way with me.
